

- a type of symmetry where an image or object can be divided into two identical, reflected halves by a "line of symmetry"
- identical halves can be reflected in vertical, horizontal, or oblique (slanted) line of symmetry.

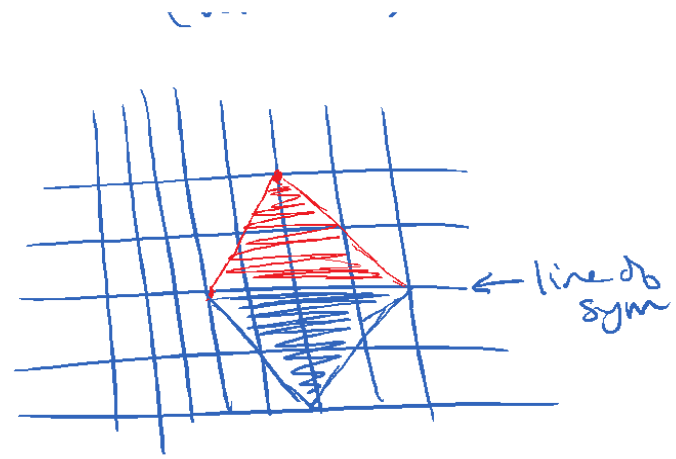

Ex

isral

Ex

Practice pg 12 # 5, 6, 13